Soccer

Diversity, fun, and great soccer is what our soccer team is about.

The soccer team is probably the most diverse team on Tech's campus. It has team members of various ethnic groups. It seems to be the sport that breaks down ethnic, language, and social barriers. The membership even extends around the world. It has international members: Pablo Herra Morgado from Chile and Martin Haehnel from Germany. They each bring a unique style to the football game. (FYI: Soccer in the rest of the world is called "football")

Even though it is mainly a boys' team, it does have one female member, Amanda Lawson. She keeps the boys check and is featured in a story in the Indianapolis Star for playing on a boys' team.

It also has two members that are from the Key School, Gabe Smith and Thomas Hailey. They enjoy coming to Tech to round out the team.

So over all, this team has brought many different people together to play a great game of soccer. Perhaps it is due to Coach Hammon, who is also the Model UN sponsor. Whatever the reason, we are glad to have the team and hope its membership keeps growing.

Boys' Tennis

For those of you who have helped clean the student parking lot of a great many tennis balls (who knows how they got there?), just think of them as presents from the boy's tennis team.

Andrew Ringham, a sophomore, returns this year as our #1 singles player. Even more amazing, he is able to maintain a perfect grade point average. T. Hailey, the #2 singles player, can whip out a serve topping 105 mph. ACE!

A lot of the success of the team is due to the versatility of the players. Seth Lucas-Falk and Yancy Hollenquest are super as both singles and doubles players. Steve Gentry and Jason Baker keep the team laughing as the other doubles team.

Tyrone Anderson, although a basketball player at heart, showed his tennis skills by making the varsity team in his first year.

Quinten, also a first year player is smashing at the net. Watch out, he's dangerous!

And who can forget, Tung Nguyen and Bobby Reese? Harvey Brown and Darryle "Smiley" Tandy-Mackenzie, the two favorite freshmen, finish off this year's lineup.

"Behind the Scenes"

(We mean literally!!!)

Stage Design Covers It All!

Set Artists • Set Builders • Stage Crew
Lighting and Sound Technicians

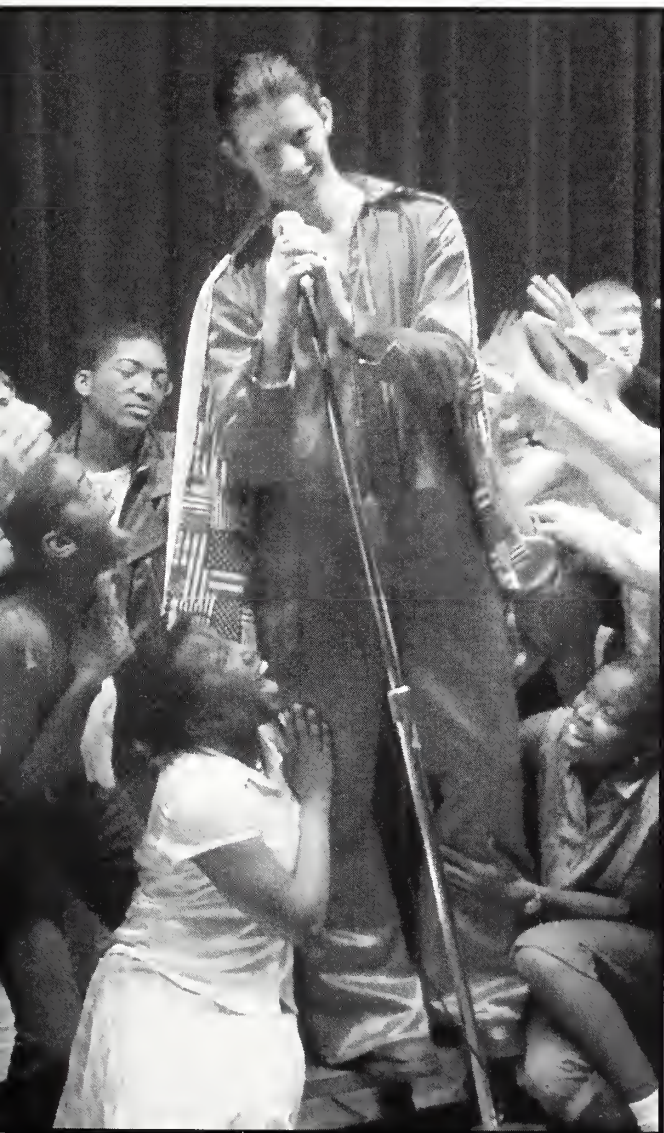

Pictured right is the 11th period stage design class, instructed by Mr. Lynch. These are the guys that create the wonderful sets used in the fall play, faculty musical, and spring musical. Without them, the show wouldn't go on. (front row L-R) Andrew Huskins, Jack Crabtree (middle row L-R) Mr. Lynch, Daniel Bigelow, Michael Gray, Kenny Lacy, Matthew Williams (back row L-R) Chris Nicewanger, Gary Smith, Johnny Kidd, and Pablo Herrera Morgado.

Model UN is an activity that gives students the opportunity to travel to various events across the state, to experience UN procedures by researching and representing a country, and to meet new people. This year Elizabeth Hollenquest, Brittanie Redd, Lenard Cook, Mitchell Franklin and Erricka Edmundson attended the Chicago event and represented the country of Eritrea. Lenard Cook (represented France), Shannon Jefferson (represented Ukraine), Mitchell Franklin (represented Molly), Ilaine Carson (represented Ireland), and Tiffany Smith (represented Jamaica) attended the IU Conference.

Tech students who attended the Chicago conference were able to meet other students from all over the state, while still learning a lot about diplomacy and international politics.
